The Hope ... Community Involvement in a Donor Promotion to Revitalize the Freedom Memorial

This site commemorates A. Chas. P. Dutton's role in the maritime connection of the Underground Railroad. At the Dutton and Raymond Warehouse site, Underground Railroad "conductor" Dutton assisted Joshua Glover and more than 100 other fugitive slaves board abolitionist-friendly ships bound for Canada. This is now the second verified Racine site officially designated as a part of the National Underground Railroad Network to Freedom. Hence, it is important that all visitors have the opportunity to take a symbolic walk around the marker and pay tribute to those who yearned for freedom and took action. As a participant in this donor promotion you will benefit by having your name permanently etched in brick signifying your support for the cause for freedom for centuries to come.

The Dream ... A Commemorative Walkway at the Underground Railroad Maritime Memorial

This will be an extraordinary walkway enhanced with custom engraved bricks that pay tribute to individuals, families, groups, events, and companies that have a special place in the heart of Southeast Wisconsin. The walkway will surround the historical marker located at the Gaslight Point Lakewalk Circle in Racine, Wisconsin ... a perfect place to grasp the significance of the dream for freedom carried deeply in the souls of those who bravely escaped via the shores of Lake Michigan.

1. Orders will be accepted through May 1, 2011 for Stage I Installation
2. You should receive a confirmation letter within 30 days. Please review it carefully. If a correction is necessary, call (262) 634-0949.
3. If you wish to purchase more than one brick or would like your brick space next to another, these orders must be submitted together. Every effort will be made to accommodate your request.
4. Your message must fit within the space provided on each brick size. PWNS reserves the right to edit the text.
5. All text will be standard size font and style. Please Note: A symbol* occupies 4 character spaces of the text copy.
6. Messages will be centered automatically. PWNS will determine case lettering (i.e. in lower case or upper case).

Your payment is a tax deductible contribution as determined under Internal Revenue Service guidelines.
